

Treehouse Clinical Services

The Treehouse Trauma Recovery Program provides evidence-based services for children, adolescents, and families.

What Services Are Available?

- Comprehensive clinical assessments
- Outpatient therapy (individual and family)
- Case management
- Psychoeducation groups
- Therapeutic support groups
- Parent support services

What Exactly Is “Trauma”?

Trauma is any event that is experienced as scary or threatening that has a negative effect on a child or adult.

Research tells us that the earlier that we can get help after a traumatic event, the better.

How Can I Get Help?

Anyone can make a referral for a child or family in need of help and healing. Call us today.

About the Treehouse

The Treehouse Trauma Recovery Center provides community-based, trauma-informed services for children, adolescents, and families exposed to family violence, domestic violence, or other traumatic or stressful live events.

The goal of the Treehouse is be a bridge from crisis to wellness - a place where hope and healing can occur for families.

Treehouse Outreach

In addition to offering clinical support for children and families, the Treehouse staff work to enhance collaborative responses across the community.

We believe that these collaborations are necessary to best serve children and their families.

Treehouse Support Groups

The Treehouse regularly offers a variety of support groups and clinical groups that are geared toward children and families.

These therapeutic groups are led by skilled clinicians and focus on topics that help children and families thrive.
