

Camille is a licensed clinical mental health associate who is a recent graduate from UNCG as of May 2022. Camille's concentration while pursuing her degree was work with couple's and families but she has experience working with adolescents, adults, and in group counseling as well. Camille utilizes a Person-Centered therapeutic framework when working with clients with a focus on building an empathetic and collaborative therapeutic connection to promote healing experiences; while honoring that this process can sometimes feel difficult and scary for clients. Camille also incorporates elements of Feminist Theory to identify the ways that societal structures can influence each person's unique lived experiences. Camille prioritizes meeting her clients where they are and collaborating to discover where they would like to go while on their therapeutic journey.
