

Melanie is a Greensboro native and received a Bachelor's of Arts degree in Psychology and Child and Family Studies from the University of Tennessee-Knoxville. Melanie worked as a teacher for the past eleven years at Guilford Park Presbyterian Church and Guilford County Schools, with extensive experience working with children and families. In her free time, she enjoys spending time with family and friends. As an active member of her community, she volunteers with the Community Theater of Greensboro and the school system.